

Study Area Map

Los Angeles
World Airports

Core Stations

Were equipped with extensive arrays of monitoring equipment to provide very comprehensive and detailed air quality data

Satellite Stations

Provided a subset of monitoring data to examine intracommunity variations in pollutant concentrations and incremental contributions of airport operations

Gradient Stations

Portable samplers were used at these sites to measure pollutant concentrations in varying proximity to airport operations and major roadways and to characterize near-source pollutant gradients